Cardinals set to vote to canonizeCarlo Acutis, 14 others

Pope Francis will preside at an Ordinary Public Consistory on July 1, when

Cardinals present in Rome are set to give the final go-ahead for the canonization of 15 Blessed.

By Christopher Wells

On the night of 9-10 July 1860, eight Franciscan friars and three lay Christians of the Maronite rite were martyred in the Franciscan convent in Syria during a Druze uprising against local Christians. Now, almost 100 years after Pope Pius XI beatified them, Emanuele Ruiz and his companions, including the brothers Francesco, Abdel-Mooti, and Raffaele Massabki, are one step away from sainthood.

On Monday, July 1, Pope Francis will proceed with the canonization of the Martyrs of Damascus

Pope Francis clears path for canonization of Blessed Carlo

Acutis The first millennial saint Bd Carlo Acutis, the 15-year-old web designer who is set to become the first "millennial" saint.

Born in 1991, Carlo Acutis was noted for his devotion to Eucharistic miracles and Marian apparitions, cataloguing both on a website he designed prior to his death in 2006 due to leukaemia. His relics can be visited in Assisi, famous as the home of St Francis, to whom Blessed Carlo had a deep devotion. Blessed Carlo Acutis.

Founders of religious orders

Of the three founders of religious orders, two – Father Giuseppe Allamano and Elena Guerra – were Italian, while the third, Marie-Léonie Paradis was from Canada.

Born in 1840 in the French-speaking province of Quebec, Élodie Paradis (Marie-Léonie was her name in religion) first joined the Sisters of the Holy Cross before founding the Little Sisters of the Holy Family, dedicated to the domestic needs in the field of education in Canada.

Father Giuseppe Allamano, established the Consolata Missionaries and the Consolata Missionary Sisters, while also serving as rector of the Sanctuary of Our Lady of Consolation (Santuario della Madonna Consolata) in Turin, Italy. His idea for an annual day for missionaries came to fruition shortly after his death, when Pope Pius XI established World Mission Day. Blessed Don Giuseppe Allamano. Elena Guerra, born in Lucca, Italy, had a great devotion to the Third Person of the Trinity, and founded the Oblates of the Holy Spirit. During her lifetime, she was particularly concerned for the education of Chinese and African girls.

Morning Offering.

O Jesus through the Immaculate Heart of Mary, I offer you my prayers, works, joy and suffering of this day for all the intentions of your Sacred Heart, in union with the Masses said throughout the world today, for the salvation of souls, the reparation of sins, in reunion of all Christians and in particular for the intentions of the Holy Father AMEN
